Workplace giving is about building community – internally and externally. It amplifies everything we touch; giving, employee experience, and community partnerships. It allows us – individual donors and corporate entities alike – to align our actions with who it is we want to be and what we want to be known for in the community.

At America’s Charities, empowering businesses and their employees to help each other and the community around them is what we do. That dual external and internal focus is where we excel, and it’s what is driving our organization’s growth and success, as we’ve highlighted on the following pages of this report.

As a result of our organization’s strategic partnerships, extensive employee giving solutions, and the dedicated service America’s Charities’ team provides its members and clients, we doubled our client base this year, were able to distribute 7 percent more dollars to nonprofits in 2019 compared to 2018, and have raised more than $750 million since our founding.

There is power in collective action. To our clients, nonprofit members, and partners – thank you for serving as catalysts for change and entrusting America’s Charities with your social impact goals. We are honored to work with you.

U.S. Chamber Foundation and America’s Charities Partner to Help Companies Support their Employees Facing Hardships

On May 21, 2019, The U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation, a leading resource for businesses dedicated to making a difference, announced a partnership with America’s Charities to provide employers the support they need to offer Employee Assistance Funds (EAFs) to their employees. Distributing EAF resources through an external partner increases a fund’s flexibility and lowers the company’s administrative burden. Each EAF is tailored to the parameters and qualifications provided by the company, ensuring it aligns with its corporate values and culture. With an already established infrastructure, and decades of experience supporting corporate investments in employees and communities, the U.S. Chamber Foundation and America’s Charities can quickly launch and mobilize a company’s EAF.

America’s Charities and SmartSimple Partner to Scale Impact with End-to-End Employee Giving Software and Service Solution

SmartSimple, a cloud-based tracking and reporting platform that helps organizations automate their critical processes, partnered with America’s Charities on June 18, 2019. Together, with SmartSimple providing its new Engage (Platform3) technology and America’s Charities’s providing its backend funds management expertise, the partnership offers companies an end-to-end solution to manage, track, and report across all giving and engagement programs, directly align corporate values with the SDGs, and even help employees leverage their activities and impact around common goals. This new full-scale solution—SmartSimple’s Engage software plus America’s Charities complete funds management service—helps companies stop focusing on the many small tasks that comprise every giving, engagement, and CSR program and instead focus on what matters: building culture, supporting communities, and changing the world. America’s Charities Acquires Causecast Giving Platform, Further Strengthening Its Support of the Social Good Sector

On July 31, 2019, America’s Charities announced its acquisition of the Causecast giving platform, further strengthening its ability to help employers achieve their giving, engagement, and social impact goals, and better help nonprofits raise unrestricted, sustainable dollars through the workplace. Following four years of Causecast partnership, the acquisition is a natural next step for America’s Charities and helps expand its already robust suite of giving and engagement solutions offered to the stakeholders of social change.

“I am thrilled to leave the Causecast giving platform in America’s Charities capable hands,” stated Ryan Scott, founder and CEO of Causecast. “I am satisfied knowing the company I created will continue to serve the greater good and help businesses and employee donors change the world. America’s Charities’ extensive giving and engagement experience, combined with their commitment to philanthropy and social impact, makes them an ideal long-term partner for the philanthropic sector – and to carry this legacy forward.”

Educating Donors and Employers About Payroll Giving

Workplace giving has transformed over the last decade, and America’s Charities has embraced that change, testing and refining new approaches that pave the way for others in our industry to follow. In February 2019, we launched the “Saving the World, One Paycheck at a Time” campaign to revisit, revitalize, and emphasize this important point: employee giving is powerful, it works, and it benefits nonprofits, donors, and employers alike.

Promotion of the “Saving the World, One Paycheck at a Time” campaign started with a series of webinars, featuring voices and perspectives of workplace giving stakeholders, campaign coordinators, and nonprofits who participate in workplace giving campaigns. We concluded the webinar series with an in-person panel discussion at America’s Charities 2019 Collective Impact Conference in Washington, D.C. Ongoing promotion of the “Saving the World, One Paycheck at a Time” campaign will be integrated with messaging promoted through our annual fall advertising campaign, which is designed to increase awareness about workplace giving and specific nonprofit causes, reaching active-duty military and Federal employees, as well as private sector employees across the country.

Change-makers from Across the Country Attended America’s Charities Inaugural Collective Impact Conference in Washington, D.C. to Tackle Real-world Challenges via Employee Giving and Engagement

On June 7, 2019, more than 100 change-makers from across the country came together in Washington, D.C. for America’s Charities inaugural Collective Impact Conference, hosted by Hogan Lovells US LLP. The only event of its kind to bring together private and public sector employers and nonprofits, the Collective Impact Conference featured employee giving, engagement, and social impact experts who lead the audience in an afternoon full of discussions about what’s new, what’s tried and true, and what’s yet to come as it relates to tackling real-world challenges via giving and engagement.

Some of the conference speakers included:
- Matthew Nelson, New York Life
- Wendi Safstrom, SHRM Foundation
- Diahann Smith, National Cooperative Bank (NCB)
- Heather Lofkin Wright, PwC US (PricewaterhouseCoopers)

Sharing America’s Charities’ Expertise Through Speaking Engagements and Conferences

In addition to attending several social responsibility and employee engagement-focused conferences throughout 2019, our team also had the opportunity to share our expertise through speaking engagements and by moderating discussions, which featured some of America’s Charities’ nonprofit members and Board directors. Among those we attended and spoke at are SHRM’s Annual Conference & Exposition, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation’s Corporate Citizenship Conference, 3BL Forum, and BBCON, which collectively convene more than 22,000 business leaders and social responsibility practitioners.

America's Charities Publishes Two New Guides, Developed for Employers Looking to More Efficiently Manage their Matching Gifts and Employee Giving Program Processes

Both guides, summarized below, can be downloaded for free from America’s Charities’ expansive library of case studies, white papers, and reports at www.charities.org/resources.

Switching Workplace Giving Providers: Your Guide for Choosing a New Partner for Your Employee Giving Program

Changing workplace giving providers and platforms is a multi-step effort that involves soliciting bids, reviewing proposals, interviewing candidates, making your selection, negotiating a deal, and getting approval from your top executives. America’s Charities’ guide, “Switching Workplace Giving Providers: Your Guide for Choosing a New Partner for Your Employee Giving Program,” was designed to help employers navigate this process so they can make a smart, informed choice.

Matching Gifts: The Definitive Guide for Employers

A successful matching gift program can help companies attract and retain employees, showcase corporate values, enhance employees’ experience, and — most importantly — make a difference in the community. But while workers clearly value matching gift programs, a surprising number of companies have yet to join the party. America’s Charities’ guide, Matching Gifts: The Definitive Guide for Employers, explains what a matching gift program is, highlights the benefits and value of matching employee donations, details how to set up a matching gift program, including five key things an employer should consider before getting started, and offers real-life examples of matching gift programs and advice from America’s Charities’ team of experts.
