Workplace Giving Overview

What is Workplace Giving?
Workplace giving campaigns can take many different forms, but they are typically annual, employer-sponsored programs that offer employees the opportunity to make a charitable contribution through payroll deduction.

There are three sectors of campaigns administered annually:

(1) The Combined Federal Campaign (CFC)
- Established by the United States government in 1961 as a way for federal workers to support charity, the CFC is the world’s largest annual workplace charity campaign and has raised over $10 billion for nonprofits over the past 50 years.
- Approximately 4 million federal employees (civilian, military, and postal workers) are solicited annually. The CFC is not a single campaign though; rather it is made up of individual CFC campaigns throughout the country and overseas that take place between September 1 and December 15 each year.
- There is no need for members to make multiple applications, because America’s Charities makes a single application on your behalf for inclusion in all of these campaigns.

(2) State and Local Public Sector Campaigns
- Workplace giving campaigns that include public employees paid through public funds (i.e. state, municipal, county, public school, public college, and university employees).
- Participating members benefit from the opportunity to have their charity listed in over 100 State and Local Campaigns in 22 states (and growing), annually in the public sector.
- Most states have unique registration requirements for charities that participate in any type of fundraising activity. You must be registered with the state before participating in campaigns within that state. America’s Charities’ Client Engagement Services team can walk you through the State and Local campaign program to see if it’s a good fit for your organization. Specific instructions on how to sign up for the program are available on your annual customized membership application, which is available every August.

(3) Private Sector Campaigns
- Workplace giving campaigns conducted annually by private corporations or organizations.
- Between private sector campaigns that list America’s Charities members as members, and private sector campaigns that America’s Charities manages, our members are presented to thousands of employees in nearly 150 private sector campaigns each year.
How Donor Pledge Distribution Works

At the end of the solicitation period of each campaign – Combined Federal Campaign (CFC), Private Sector campaign, or State and Local campaign – pledge results are tabulated by the Fiscal Agent appointed by the campaign. The results of this tabulation are reported to each federation and unaffiliated charity participating in the campaign.

Beginning with the first paycheck in the following January, pledges are deducted by employers from the pay of donors. Periodically, the employer forwards these funds to the Fiscal Agent, who then forwards the funds to the federation (America’s Charities or others), or unaffiliated charities. The federation consolidates pledge information from all campaigns and distributes funds to member charities. In larger campaigns, Fiscal Agents distribute funds on a monthly basis, while in smaller campaigns, distributions might occur less frequently, quarterly, for example.

When America’s Charities acts as fiscal agent, we distribute funds monthly or quarterly, depending on the instructions of the campaign. The first distribution of funds typically occurs in May after the initial payroll deductions take place in January. The last distribution comes twelve months later, in the following April.

Shrinkage: Some pledges cannot be collected, due to termination of employment, death, voluntary discontinuance of a pledge, or other reasons. Since most campaigns do not track the loss of these funds to the employee level, cancelled pledges affect all participating organizations equally.

To account for shrinkage, charities should make their plans based on collecting approximately 85% of all funds pledged.

Workplace Giving
One of the easiest, most effective ways you can support [CHARITY NAME] is through workplace giving, an employer-sponsored program that empowers you to support your favorite charities through tax-deductible donations deducted directly from your paycheck. Through our membership with America’s Charities, employees at hundreds of public and private organizations can donate to [CHARITY NAME] through payroll contributions.

If your company does not have a workplace giving program, please ask your HR/Employee Benefits Director to contact [your charity’s corporate giving/development officer name and contact info]. Additionally, you can find more information about joining or starting a workplace giving program by visiting America’s Charities’ website at www.charities.org. America’s Charities facilitates our participation in public and private sector workplace giving programs, and can help your employer start a program so you can support [CHARITY NAME] through workplace giving.

Combined Federal Campaign (CFC)
The CFC is a workplace giving campaign for federal employees: civilian employees, military personnel and postal workers. [CHARITY NAME] is a member of America’s Charities [If you are a member of our Children First, Health First, or Community First federation, mention that here] and is listed as CFC # [enter your CFC number]. Look for us in your workplace charitable giving campaign and designate [CHARITY NAME, CFC number] as recipient of your generosity on your pledge forms. The campaign season is typically between October and December each year. Check with your agency for exact dates. To find your local CFC office, visit: http://www.opm.gov/combined-federal-campaign/find-local-campaigns/locator/

Maximize Your Impact with Matching Gifts
Each year, $10 billion is left unclaimed in matching gifts. That’s free money that you could help us get! Matching gift programs are charitable giving programs set up by corporations in which the company matches donations made by employees to eligible nonprofit organizations. With a matching gift from your employer, your donation to [CHARITY NAME] could be doubled in value. About 65% of Fortune 500 companies (and many others) match employee donations. Check with your company for more information and see if your employer will match your gift to [CHARITY NAME].

How to Publicize Your Organization

There are a number of general promotional strategies you can employ to increase visibility of your efforts on a local and national level. One key to the successful creation of these materials is the clear, consistent reinforcement of your charity’s goals and accomplishments. Analyze each opportunity for promotion – a special event, a personnel change, a significant contribution – to determine which of the following strategies would be best utilized:

- News Release:
  Write to a local or regional news angle. Incorporate a bold headline that grabs interest without being too promotional. Succinctly summarize in the first paragraph the significance of your announcement and quote a senior level leader from your organization in the following paragraph.

- Media Interviews:
  Pitch your spokesperson to local or regional television and radio programs, along with local or regional newspapers and magazines.

- Public Service Announcements (PSAs):
  Broadcast television and radio stations are required, as part of their FCC license, to air PSAs. Develop PSAs for radio, television or even YouTube that highlight your charity’s contributions to the community. Mention your easy-to-find listing under America’s Charities.

- Editorial Commentary/Letter to the Editor:
  Tailor your message to a recent community news event where your charitable efforts have made a positive difference.

- Newsletters/Social Media:
  Focus on recent news and success stories.

- Paid Advertising:
  Focus on most product markets. Keep in mind low-cost center outlets. Consider budgeting money to participate in America’s Charities Fall Advertising Campaign which targets Federal and private sector workplace giving donors.

Press Release Templates

On the following pages are templates, including sample press releases you can use each year to promote CFC and workplace giving donations, and to share results.

Email/Newsletter/Blog/Social Media Messages

Your newsletter, blog, email and social media platforms are also great opportunities to reach out to your existing donors and the public about donating through the CFC and workplace giving.

On the following pages are templates, sample messages, and graphics you can use to inform constituents about workplace giving as a powerful way to support your charity.

Sample Message #1 for Your Email/Newsletter/Blog:

Email Subject Line: One of the Most Powerful Ways to Support [CHARITY NAME]

We appreciate all the different way you contribute to our work, and that’s why we want you to know about an easy, powerful way you can support us – through workplace giving.

[CHARITY NAME] is proud to be a member of America’s Charities, a nonprofit organization that facilitates our participation in hundreds of public and private sector workplace giving programs across the country, giving donors like you the opportunity to support us from where you work. Because Workplace giving is one of the easiest, most cost-effective ways to support [CHARITY NAME’s] mission, it enables us to maximize the impact your donation makes.

Benefits of Giving Where You Work:
Workplace giving allows you to make automated tax-deductible gifts through weekly, monthly, or bi-monthly payroll deductions, which makes it:

- Easy: You can support us along with your other favorite charities from one platform, pledge different amounts to each charity, and have all of your donations automatically deducted from your paycheck. This also makes it easy to keep track of your donation information for tax season.

- Practical: A small percentage of your paycheck can make a major difference in our work around [enter your cause]. Giving through payroll deduction enables you to pledge a large amount of money once a year, while having that contribution divided into small increments that get deducted from your paycheck and distributed to us throughout the year. And since we'll know how much money you have pledged to us, we can plan how to use your donation more strategically and make a stronger impact.

- Empowering: Workplace giving empowers you and [CHARITY NAME]! Money donated through workplace giving provides us with “unrestricted funds,” which means we have flexibility to spend the money on the programs and day-to-day operations that will best enable us to fulfill our mission.

This past year, [CHARITY NAME] [insert a few bullet points on the impact you made thanks to donor support].

- Impact #1
- Impact #2
- Impact #3

None of this would have happened without your support, and you can see the amazing work we continue to do by connecting with our community on [enter links to your social media sites, website and newsletter]. We encourage you to learn more about supporting us through workplace giving at [insert link to your web page about workplace giving].

Thank you!

Workplace giving is one of the easiest and most cost-effective ways for you to support [CHARITY NAME], and it enables us to maximize the impact your donation makes.

Ways America’s Charities Promotes You

America’s Charities engages in a number of initiatives each year to promote our members in the Combined Federal Campaign and workplace giving programs across the country, specifically during the peak giving season (October - December) through our annual Fall Advertising Campaign which targets Federal employees. We use this campaign to promote giving to all of our members through workplace giving, and also set aside advertising space that individual members can purchase to amplify their message during the peak giving season.

Some of the platforms and publications we have used for advertising in past campaigns:

- Campaign Brochures (Free + Paid ad space opportunities)
  - Distributed all across the country to the CFC and Private Sector campaigns
  - All members are listed, along with their website and CFC number (or EIN for private sector) (Paid ad space also available)

- Charity Fairs (Free)
  - Each year, America’s Charities sends unique invitations to members for charity fair and speaking engagement opportunities.

- The Washington Post Express (Free + Paid ad space opportunities)
  - All members are listed with their CFC number (Paid ad space also available)

- Posters Inside D.C. Metrorail Cars (Paid ad space)
  - This subway system in Washington, D.C. provides transit service for more than 700,000 individuals from Maryland, Virginia, and D.C.

- Television (Paid ad space)
  - During recent campaigns, we have had TV ads running during prime time hours on ABC Family, Comedy Central, Food Network, HGTV, Lifetime Movie Network, MTV, The Oprah Winfrey Network, Oxygen, SYFY, and TRU TV to reach young professionals and Federal employees in Washington, D.C., Maryland, and Virginia households.

- Digital Banner Ads (Paid ad space)
  - Using defined keywords and channels we use digital banner ads to target government employees, charitable decision makers and influencers, and donors interested in charitable causes on popular websites including Federal Times, Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, Fox, ESPN, Politico, YouTube, Fandango and more.

- America’s Charities Website, Blog, & Social Media (Free)
  - Average 50,000 website visitors per month
  - 8,000+ Social Media Fans
  - All members are promoted on our website through individual charity profile pages and through our Fall Advertising Campaign landing page.

- Company Employee-Giving Platforms (Free)
  - In addition to helping your nonprofit qualify for inclusion in the CFC, America’s Charities partners with companies and other sources to ensure our members are included as giving choices in nearly 150 private sector workplace giving campaigns.
Year-round Marketing Opportunities

In addition to helping you raise money through workplace giving campaigns and the CFC, there are a variety of member events and marketing opportunities you can take advantage of throughout the year.

Blogs

Between publishing blog posts on our website and distributing those posts through 3BL Media, we reach thousands of individuals with each blog post. We invite you to sign-up to be featured in our blog by contacting our Marketing team at Marcom@charities.org.

Some of the approaches we take to tell your organization’s story and share your impact on our blog include:

- Donor-focused blog post:
  Leading off with an interesting fact or statistic about the cause your organization is addressing (e.g. If nothing changes, 14-16 million Americans could have Alzheimer's by 2050), we focus on what your organization is doing to solve that problem, and how others can help.

- Corporate Partnership-focused blog post:
  Through cause-marketing campaigns, event sponsorships, workplace giving programs, matching gifts, volunteerism and pro bono work, companies of all types and sizes are choosing to make an impact through partnerships with specific charities. Through this blog concept, we feature collaborative partnerships between businesses and America’s Charities member organizations to share how those relationships were formed, what they're on a mission to accomplish, and what makes them effective.

- Corporate Campaign-focused blog post:
  Does your charity celebrate a special awareness month or have a trademarked event? Employers are steadily moving to year-round giving programs that include a traditional fall workplace giving campaign, as well as special cause-focused campaigns they promote during the year. We can highlight your organization’s special event (a few months prior to when it occurs) as a way to encourage employers to support your organization and cause through their year-long employee engagement efforts. America’s Charities can include screenshots from our workplace giving solutions to help employers envision how they can easily support your cause with America’s Charities as a partner to support your organization’s success.

Charity Impact Stories & Dollar Buy Statements
America’s Charities uses corporate clients’ workplace giving programs as a way to share our members’ impact to employee donors. Having examples and stories of your organization’s impact promoted through employee-giving sites is one of the closest touch points you can have with a potential donor before they make a decision about which charities to support.

Additionally, our clients, other companies we partner with, and State and Local campaign coordinators are always asking us to provide “dollar buy” statements they can share with employees. Ranging between $1 - $1,000, dollar buy statements give donors and idea of what their donation will help charities like yours accomplish.

Submit a Story or Dollar Buy Statement to us:
We request this information from you when you submit your membership application, but anytime during the year, you can send us stories and dollar buy statements. Your story can be as simple as just a paragraph or two, or can also include a video or photo. We are also open to receiving other resources your team has for us to share with our workplace giving clients. Email your stories and dollar buy statements to marcom@charities.org.
Annual Fall Advertising Campaign

Each year, America’s Charities purchases a mix of print and digital ad space (i.e. newspaper, metro rail, TV, online ads) and offers that space to our members at a fraction of the cost through our Fall Advertising Campaign. This enables us to elevate America’s Charities and our members’ brands in the private and public sector, and engage potential donors during the peak giving season. And it helps your organization afford advertising in mediums you otherwise wouldn’t be able to fit within your budget.

New advertising options are offered each year as we like to try new things, as well as stick with what we know works. When creating these packages, we try to integrate mediums that will reach both public and private sector employee donors, with a heavy focus on helping you reach Federal donors in the Washington, D.C. region.

Pricing may change slightly year to year depending on elements included in each package, but typically are offered within the price ranges shown in our advertising packages displayed at https://www.charities.org/advertising.

Advertising Impact:

What is the ROI for advertising with America’s Charities? Our Fall Ad Campaign is an awareness campaign. Because the goal of our Fall Advertising Campaign is to get donors to support your organization via payroll deduction, we do not have a way to directly track the return your advertising investment has on your pledge results. However, we have conducted an analysis of member pledge performance and how members’ advertising investment choices in the past have correlated to average pledge performance. To view that impact analysis, click here: http://www.charities.org/sites/default/files/America's%20Charities%20Fall%20Advertising%20Impact.pdf
Charity Fairs, Speaking Engagements & Promotional Items

From late August through the end of December, hundreds of public and private sector charity fairs take place. Hosted by private sector employers and government agencies as a way to encourage employees to participate in workplace giving, charity fairs are an excellent and unique opportunity to promote your organization’s work directly to potential donors.

In addition to attending as many charity fair events as you can, we encourage your organization to send promotional items to America’s Charities for use in the following situations:

- Employers are always asking us to send them promotional items from our members to use at their various employee-giving events. Promotional items are a great way for your organization to have a presence at company events all across the country, helps your charity stand out from the rest, and creates top-of-mind awareness among employees deciding which charity(ies) to support.

- When America’s Charities attends charity fairs, we have a table where we display promotional items from all of our members. As employees pass by our table, they will grab your promotional item, and in many cases that promotional item will be a conversation starter. This is one of the ways we represent you when your organization is not able to be present at an event.

Each year, America’s Charities’ Client Engagement Solutions team will reach out to you about promotional items and attending charity fairs. To learn more about the process of being invited to attend charity fairs, and for tips on what promotional items work best, contact our team at ClientSolutions@charities.org or 703-674-4953.

Promote Your Volunteer Opportunities

America’s Charities currently provides employers with two technology solutions to manage workplace giving campaigns: America’s Charities powered by Causecast (for employers who want to offer employees a way to donate, volunteer and more) and our Simply Giving Solution (for employers only interested in employee donation campaigns).

The charity profiles featured in America’s Charities powered by Causecast are populated by information provided by nonprofits through “Causecast for Nonprofits.” As a member benefit, America’s Charities has already populated your profile for you. Your organization has complete control to review and update your own profile anytime.

Post Volunteer Opportunities
Once you have logged into your Causecast for Nonprofits profile, select “Volunteering” from the menu, you can promote volunteer opportunities to let companies and their employees know about key events where donors can make a deeper connection with your organization. Opportunities can be more traditional in-person volunteer activities or remote/virtual opportunities that can be completed from the convenience of one’s home or place of work.

As employees sign up for your volunteer activities, you can use the “Manage Opportunities” and “Volunteer Report” features to track number of participants and collect information about the volunteers interested in contributing to your work.

Reports & Pledge Data

As employees donate to nonprofit organizations through workplace giving campaigns managed by America’s Charities and through CFC/State/Local campaigns, we make that information available to nonprofits via the following reports, accessible 24/7 at https://www.pledgefirst.org/charitylogin. Use the login credentials assigned to your nonprofit. For help with your nonprofit’s login credentials, please contact America’s Charities’ Client Solutions team at ClientSolutions@Charities.org.

Pledge Summary: total amounts pledged to your organization in each campaign.

Pledge and Donor Report: all donors who pledged to your organization and personal data for any who opted to provide it.

Donor Acknowledgement: only those donors who opted to receive an acknowledgement/thank you from your organization.

Distribution Report: includes the dollar amount to be disbursed to your organization from campaigns managed by America’s Charities, with detailed individual donor payment information.

Member Distribution Report: includes the dollar amount to be disbursed to your organization from campaigns not managed by America’s Charities, but to which we get you access so your charity is listed as a giving option, for example: CFC, State/Local Campaigns, and the Private Sector campaigns that America’s Charities does not manage. Detailed donor payment information is not provided by these campaigns; instead aggregated payment is reported for each campaign.
How to Organize Employee Donor Data in Your Nonprofit Database

- Download Donor Information Monthly: While the majority of new donor data becomes available February – June, new information continues to arrive throughout the year.
- Tag Donors as Workplace Giving Donors in Your Database:
  - Mark by campaign type (CFC, State/Local, Private Sector) so you can tailor your message, including your CFC# when appropriate.
  - Any email addresses from CFC donors containing .gov or .mil belong to Federal employees. Flag these as “Do Not Solicit” to ensure you don’t break any CFC solicitation rules.
  - You are prohibited from selling or lending donor information you acquire from reports provided by America’s Charities.

Employee Donor Tax Receipts

A question we often hear from nonprofits is, “Do we have to provide donors with a tax receipt or do you handle that?”

Immediately after an employee donor pledges through a workplace giving campaign managed by America’s Charities, an auto-generated receipt is provided to that employee donor.

Additionally, America’s Charities works with its corporate clients to provide employee donors PDF copies of their tax receipt closer to tax time. We also supply a quarterly email (to donors who subscribe) containing an update of how much of their workplace giving pledge has been distributed to the nonprofit(s) they supported. This quarterly distribution email, as well as a thank you note from your nonprofit, also can be used for tax purposes. As a precaution, we do advise donors to consult with their tax preparer for more details.
Thanking & Soliciting Employee Donors

Nearly 3 out of 4 new donors leave and never come back. That doesn’t have to be the case for your nonprofit. Since rules and best practices for communicating with private sector and government donors can be a little confusing, here are important rules, communications timelines and tips to help you retain and engage workplace giving donors.

Rules and Best Practices for Communicating with Federal Employees

Who:
The Office of the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) does NOT release any information about Federal employee donors unless the donors have specifically authorized the campaign to do so. Therefore, your nonprofit should only solicit and thank federal employee donors who have supported your organization and authorized the CFC to share their contact information with your nonprofit. In some cases when selecting whether or not they want to be acknowledged by your nonprofit, Federal employees will provide their government email address (.gov or .mil) rather than their personal email address. Due to strict CFC solicitation rules, we strongly recommend that your nonprofit play it safe and tag .gov and .mil email addresses as “Do Not Solicit” in your database.

When:
To avoid converting a workplace giving gift to a one-time donation, please make the ask for continued support right before CFC campaign season, which runs from September 1st through December 15th.

How:
While you should refrain from soliciting Federal employees with a .gov or .mil email address, be creative with how you solicit and communicate with other Federal employee donors who have shared their contact information with you.

CFC’s OPM-Approved Pilot Program: C.A.R.E.
In 2014, the CFC started a pilot program called the Charity Auto-Response Element (C.A.R.E.). This program is designed to connect charities to donors by generating automatic notification thanking donors that give online to your organization.

How it works is when donors pledge online they automatically will receive an email message with a one-paragraph “thank you” statement and summary of your organization’s plans for using donor contributions. Please note that currently this is still a one-way communication from you to the donor. Campaigns will NOT release any information about these donors unless they (the donors) specifically authorize the campaign to do so.
This action will give CFC donors a better understanding of your cause and how you intend to use their contributions.

America’s Charities Nonprofit Member Perk
America’s Charities provides one-on-one consultation with its member charities interested in participating in the C.A.R.E. program to ensure their “thank you” letter meets all stated criteria outlined by OPM, as well as communicates effectively the mission of the organization and intended use of the donation.

Here are some basic “Do’s” and “Don’ts to consider when writing your C.A.R.E. paragraph, along with an example statement:

DO:
- Thank the donor right away.
- Express your enthusiasm for being part of the Combined Federal Campaign.
- Make it personal—the message should come from your CEO, Board Chair or equivalent, not from “the organization.”
- Briefly describe recent accomplishments.
- Briefly describe plans for using donor’s contribution in the upcoming year.
- Use concrete examples.
- You may also wish to thank the donor for being a public servant to our nation.
- CAREFULLY PROOFREAD your statement for spelling, punctuation, grammar, etc. Remember, this statement will reflect the professionalism of your organization. CFC officials may not be able to edit every statement.

DO NOT:
- Solicit additional donations or encourage the donor to give outside of the CFC. If such solicitations are found, they will be removed.
- Ask the donor to provide his/her contact information.
- Ask the donor to contact you.
- Exceed the 1,000 character limit. Any words after that limit has been met will not be included in your C.A.R.E. paragraph.
- Submit photos, videos, or any hyperlinks.
- Include your website address (URL). We have that information on file and will automatically include it for you, so donors can visit your website to learn more.
Example C.A.R.E. Statement:

Dear Donor,

Thank you so much for your generous donation to [name of charity]. Your contribution will help us provide [type of service] that will result in [impact statement].

Over the past year, [name of charity] has accomplished [statement about the results of your work and its impact]. With your gift and those of other Federal workers, we will continue our dedicated work to do [purpose].

On behalf of all of us at [name of charity], we thank you for your contribution and we thank you for your continued public service.

Sincerely,

[Name of person at charity]

Communicating with Private Sector Employees and Government Employees:

Best Practices & Ideas

• When soliciting to employee donors, do not solicit them with the same message and appeals you use with traditional, one-time donors. Doing so could hurt your fundraising results, turning a workplace giving donor who gives $500 to becoming a one-time $50 donor instead.

• Be creative and think big! Soliciting employee donors does not have to be restricted to communication methods like newsletters and direct mail. You can use social media (paid and organic), your blog, or even purchase advertising space from your local newspaper, transit (metro/bus), military/Federal publications, and 3rd party website banner ads. If you are an America’s Charities nonprofit member, take advantage of discounted advertising opportunities by participating in our Fall Member Ad Campaign (www.charities.org/advertising).

• Increase your share of workplace giving donors by leveraging your Board Directors and corporate partners. They want to help your cause, so ask them to start a workplace giving program at their company and to feature your nonprofit, to help you gain access to more employee donors. If you need a workplace giving technology solution and assistance implementing a program, contact America’s charities at www.charities.org/requestinfo.

• Feature your CFC# and workplace giving as a way to give on your website. A lot of donors are traditional, one-time donors simply because they aren’t aware they can support you through workplace giving. Use your website to educate them about what workplace giving is and how they can participate (as a private sector or Federal employee).

Communications Timeline
Thanking donors is only the first step. Donors want assurance their gift is reaching your nonprofit and being put to good use. To keep your donors appreciated, informed, and connected:

Immediately:
- Thank donors as soon as you receive acknowledgement information.
- Don’t ask for more money though; keep your message tone appreciative and filled with examples of how their contribution will make an impact.
- “Thank you” notes are an opportunity to move donors along a relationship continuum. Encourage them to subscribe to your newsletter and connect with you on social media. This will give you a way to reach them more frequently with updates about the difference you’re making in the community and other ways they can get involved (i.e. volunteering).

August-September:
- Send reminders to your existing workplace giving donors to thank them for past support and ask them to continue supporting you in their upcoming workplace giving campaign.
- Include an example of how their support will help you meet your goals for the upcoming year, or share a personal story of someone you helped by your nonprofit.

October-November:
- Send 2nd reminder to donate to you through workplace giving. Keep the message fresh by including a different example of impact or personal story than you used in your August-September letter.

Year-round:
Keep in touch with donors to let them know how their gift is making an impact:
- Appeal to their emotions with success stories
- Tell them about volunteer opportunities or events they can attend to see your work in action. According to Snapshot 2015, volunteering is an on-ramp to full employee engagement.
- Educate them with facts and statistics related to your cause
- Make it easy for them to advocate for/or share information on your behalf
- Send them a copy of your annual report
